McCALL

I. S. Daugherty, of Southland, had charge of the prayer meeting Saturday night. He took for his subject "Fruits—Good and Bad." He did himself proud by the manner in which he handled the subject. Mr. Daugherty is a very earnest talker and appears to want to be a consistent Christian.

Mrs. Leach, of Connecticut, who is spending the winter with Captain and Mrs. D. McLeis, of New Point Comfort, was a visitor in our burg last week.

The farmer informs us that Mrs. Madge McKinney is the champion lady piscatorial artist operating on the trestle crossing the Myakka river, she having landed some 80 pounds of the speckled beauties in one night's fishing. As to just how much assistance was rendered her during that catch, report saith not.

Late Sunday afternoon, O. U. Grouch, with a grin on his face, pitched to the proper angle, a week's growth of beard and dressed in his best go-to-meetin' togs, was seen wending his way to Aunt Becca Goff's.

Noticing that he did not tarry there, we took a stroll over to Christopher Marrec's house. It seemed to be our good luck day as Mr. Grouch and we arrived at Mr. Marrec's gate at the same time and heard Mr. Grouch, with tears in his voice and vocal cords all atremble; remark: "Christie, its no use, you needn't ever tell me again; there is no show and I know it now." Seeing the deep gloom on the old man's face and remembering when we were young, ardent and tenderhearted toward the fair sex, we felt a deep compassion for Mr. Grouch. We also had a desire to pick up any news that might be laying around loose. When we reached Aunt Becca's house we found the young lady who is stopping with her and Mr. Gartman setting at the table, chatting as merrily as two doves in a rose garden.

Leon Gurganious and Miss Daisy Brantley of Vineland, were visitors in McCall, Sunday.

Miss Inez Rowland, teacher at Vineland school, accompanied by the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ainger, spent the week-end at Harbor View with homefolks.

Mrs. Ella Goff, having decided that a well filled poultry yard would be a profitable acquisition in connection with a boarding house, is gathering up a stock of the feathered mortgage lifters and will soon be able to abundantly supply her table with the delectable fruit of the hen.

Mrs. Trudie Bell, our efficient postmistress, is snugly encoined in her own building and is seen going

Keep Charlotte County Dollars in Charlotte County

Because of the fact that labor is the biggest item of cost in the production of printing, when Charlotte county people deal with the Punta Gorda Publishing Company, the larger portion of each dollar spent with us stays in the community and eventually a part of it finds its way back into the till whence it came. Each dollar spent with us helps to pay taxes, support community organizations, make improvements and pay salaries to home people who deal with home people. Every share of stock of the Punta Gorda Publishing Company is owned by home people—and every stockholder is a taxpayer in Charlotte county—some of them very large ones.

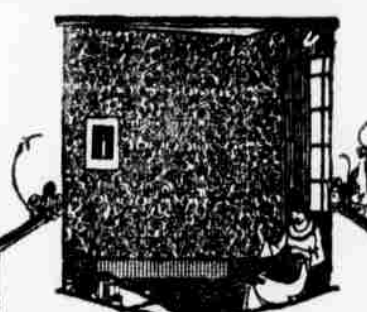

The above are very good reasons for Charlotte county people keeping the dollars they spend for printing in Charlotte county, but there are better ones: We are equipped to turn out all kinds of printing at prices generally 10 percent under the price asked by big-city printers, because our production costs are less, and if you want lithographed, engraved or embossed work of any character we are ready to supply your needs at prices no higher than asked by others—and sometimes our prices on this class of work are less than others ask. We use the Franklin printing price list—the price list used by 10,000 of America's best printers—which insures the customer a fair price and the printer a fair profit—which is all either should seek.

It's good business to "keep Florida dollars in Florida" but it's better business to "keep Charlotte county dollars in Charlotte county"—especially when they will buy the same or better in quality and 100 of them spent here are worth as much as 110 spent away from home.
